A NEW KINGDOM OF MUSIC
for you who play the piano . . .
THE NEW HAMMOND ELECTRIC ORGAN
A CONCERT INSTRUMENT FOR HOMES!

Organ music . . . with all its beauty, its soaring grandeur, its hushed lovely murmur . . . has become a practical reality for the home with the new Hammond electric organ. And over and above the familiar voices of the organ, the Hammond offers a myriad of new fascinating tone colors that give your favorite melodies new depth and richness.

- The Hammond is played like any organ; its technique is quickly mastered by any pianist.
- Fits in a four-foot square . . . easily moved and installed . . . cannot get out of tune.
- Costs no more than a fine piano . . . from $1295

Fernando Germani, world famous young Roman organist, will play the Hammond organ in his San Francisco concert at the War Memorial Opera House . . . and throughout his 1937-38 concert tour.

Hammond Organ, like Steinway and Capehart, is exclusive with Sherman, Clay

OUR CREED...

SINCE 1868 the firm of Goldstein & Company has served the Western States with costumes. These costumes have been built primarily for the enjoyment of Opera-loving and theatre-going public. During this particular year, as has been our privilege in the past, we place for your enjoyment the costumes used by the San Francisco Grand Opera Association. · Our remodeled studio is now completed, housing costumes that we feel, are the finest procurable. Our belief in San Francisco, its past, its present, has been justified. Our conviction in the future, is, that we have just started to enjoy the fruits of our labors. · With the coming of the 1938 Season of Opera and the 1939 World's Exposition before us, we feel that our hopes cannot be blasted, and it is for this reason that we take this opportunity of thanking our many friends who have supported us in the past, who have made it possible for this great institution to continue. · To enumerate our notable costume productions of the past is impossible. Looking forward, may we wish to the San Francisco Opera Association, its Board of Directors, its internationally known General Director, Gaetano Merola, its stage director, Mr. Armando Agnini, its founders and donors, as great a pleasure and satisfaction in the future as they must have received in the past. · This wish to each and every one: "That united for the betterment of San Francisco, we band together for that great accomplishment that will bring the JEWEL OF PRICELESS WORTH to our City, the WORLD'S EXPOSITION of 1939."

THE STORY

ACT I

A messenger has come to the palace of the Egyptian king with word of approaching invasion by the Ethiopians under the leadership of King Amonasro. Ramfis, the high priest, reveals to Rhadames that the Gods have selected him to command the forces sent forth to repel the invasion. This choice pleases Princess Amneris for victory would make Rhadames, with whom she is in love, a desirable mate for her. The warrior's thoughts are not of Amneris, however, but of Aida, Ethiopian slave of the princess, captured in a late war, and, unknown to the Egyptians, a daughter of Amonasro. Amneris, coming upon Rhadames, rallies him on the passion of his bearing but jealously comprehends it is not for her when the weeping slave girl enters. The court assembles and escorts Rhadames to the temple to receive his command. (Scene 2). In the recesses of the temple of Vulcan, Rhadames receives a consecrated sword and is dedicated to his trust.

ACT II

Word has come that Rhadames has been victorious. Amneris thinks upon his strange behavior with Aida as she joins her slave girls in singing his praises. On the approach of Aida she deftly gains from her the confession of her love for Rhadames. Then, telling of her own love for the warrior, Amneris commands that Aida shall witness Rhadames' obediences to herself on his triumphant return. (Scene 2). Royal welcome is given Rhadames on his return with the conquered Ethiopians. Amonasro, dressed as a plain officer, is recognized by Aida. Signaling her not to betray his rank he acknowledges her as his daughter and tells how the king, wounded, had died at his feet. Rhadames, offered any boon he may wish, requests the freedom of the Ethiopians. His wish is granted but Amonasro and Aida are retained as hostages. The king then gives Rhadames, as his supreme reward, the hand of Amneris.

ACT III

Amneris goes to the temple on the eve of her marriage to Rhadames. Aida, coming later, is followed by her father who plays upon her love for Rhadames and her concern for her countrymen to involve in a plot to his advantage. Rhadames appearing, Amonasro conceals himself. Aida begs her lover to flee with her. Enraptured, he unwittingly discloses his army's movements, upon which Amonasro comes forth. Amneris, concealed among the palms, has overheard and, enraged, rushes out. Amonasro escapes with Aida.

ACT IV

Amneris, regretting the act that gave the man she loved to the priests, sends for Rhadames and offers to save him if he accept and return her love. Rhadames refuses and she calls down the hatred of the Gods upon him. The priests escort Rhadames to the Hall of Justice. Amneris hears the trial as it is conducted behind the scenes and wildly curses the priesthood as sentence is pronounced. (Scene 2). Aida, informed of Rhadames' sentence, has concealed herself in the tomb. When he descends into it and prays that she may never know his fate, Aida comes forth that they may die together.

Talk about trusts . . .

Mr. A.—You seem to be enjoying the music.

Mr. B.—Never enjoyed it more. I'm completely at peace with the world.

Mr. A.—That's good to hear, these days.

Mr. B.—Well, it's true. My affairs are all set now so that no matter what happens to me, the family will have a regular income. The bank calls it a Family Trust.

Mr. A.—You mean you've tied your property up in trust?

Mr. B.—Oh, no, not tied up at all. I can change it any time I need to—or cancel it entirely. Whatever suits me best . . .

WHAT IS A FAMILY TRUST?

The Family Trust is an arrangement by which the bank assumes the custody of your property, under your instructions for the benefit of your family. The property may be securities, cash, life insurance, real estate, or business interests. The details are worked out with your attorney. The cost is a small fraction of the income. And the trust can be made a valuable and economical adjunct to your Will. An explanatory booklet on Family Trusts is available on request; write, telephone, or call.

NEW STYLE...OLD CHARM

The smartest, friendliest place in town to stop or live. Through the porte cochère of this noble hostelry, comes and goes the "doingest" folk of Nob Hill's citizenry. With all of its historic charm intact, today's FAIRMONT . . . newly decorated and luxuriously furnished . . . sets the pace for how and where to live. ☞ There's the view of the sweeping Bay Bridge . . . the panorama of the rising World's Fair grounds in yonder blue, bay waters, while for added living there's the chic Circus Lounge . . . the exquisite Venetian Dining Room, and nightly the aired-rhythm of Henry King and his orchestra. ☞ Shops and theaters four minutes from the door; garage your car in the building.

*Transient rates from $3.50 per day . . .
Permanent guest rates and accommodations to suit the limits of any budget.*

SPOKANE

From the bodegas of Pedro Domecq

Bottled in Jerez, Spain

The Sherries of Pedro Domecq are now available in great variety to suit every palate and every purse. If your taste is for a sweet wine we have mahogany-hued Olorosos rich in the benefactions of antiquity. For those who prefer the dryer types there are Domecq Amontillados and Finos of great distinction. To serve Sherry is good taste. To serve Domecq Sherry is discrimination.

IF you can learn to say Domecq when you ask for Sherry you will never be disappointed in the quality of your wine. Sold at package liquor stores and served by leading hotels and restaurants.

Served at the Opera House BUFFET.
